A Special Welcome From Johnny Bench and Doug Flynn

People ask why Hope For The Warriors® and the Hope For The Warriors Invitational are such an important part of our lives. The answer is easy: Once you realize what Hope For The Warriors does in lives of our heroes - the men and women who have sacrificed while serving in our military - you just have to be “all in.” It may sound cliché, but we have seen it with our own eyes. Hope For The Warriors gives HOPE to these heroes and their families. They are hands on, holistic and personal when dealing with the affected service member and helping get them to their new normal. That can mean preparing them to continue serving their country or helping them and their family transition into their next role as civilians.

We have watched this golf event grow with more golf professionals, celebrities, flag officers, sponsors and service members attending year after year. We are looking forward to spending time with our heroes at the 9th annual Hope For The Warriors Invitational (August 12-13, 2018) at the gorgeous River Landing Country Club in Wallace, North Carolina. Our time together will be spent playing golf, attending the always memorable Warrior Night dinner, telling and listening to stories, and meeting some true American heroes.

Join us at the 2018 Hope For The Warriors Invitational. You will walk away with treasured memories, a stronger commitment to serve these heroes, and a feeling of pride that will inspire other supporters who want to make a difference. Come be “all in” with us and you will leave fulfilled like never before!

~ Johnny Bench and Doug Flynn, Invitational Co-hosts

“Hope For The Warriors takes care of the young men and women who have gone forward to ensure the freedoms that we all enjoy here in this great nation, in many cases now facing a life very different than they expected when they left here. They are magnificent young men and women, and Hope For The Warriors helps make them whole again and helps to make sure our nation recognizes the sacrifices they have made.”

~ General William L. “Spider” Nyland, USMC (Ret.)

“Hope For The Warriors includes the whole family, not just the service member that’s in recovery. The organization is like my extended family, and regularly checks in not only on me, but on members of my family as well. It also connects me to other injured service members through different programs and community events, and I can talk with them about things I might not be able to with other people. The program pushes us past our injuries to our hopes and dreams, and helps our ‘new normal’ become stronger and stronger.”

~ Gunnery Sgt. John Rose, USMC, U.S. Marine Corps

Warrior Night

Warrior Night is a borrowed tradition of ceremonial dining. Originally a British Army tradition, it has become an honored ritual of enjoying drinks, good food, and fellowship. Beware guests often find themselves in outrageous situations to be levied and fined! There is a serious side too as we pay homage to those who have served and are serving through toasts given by members of the mess.
